“ David and I met in a Sacramento photo group a few years ago and right away, I was drawn to his easygoing manner, kindness, and his intelligent views on any number of subjects. I looked forward to chatting with him at these monthly get together through the years. Although I was about ten years his senior, we shared the same passion for photography as kids and we lusted after the same cameras. David's story about working hard to earn the money (was it a paper route???) for a new Nikon F3, finally hitting his goal and pedaling his bike excitedly to the camera store to pick it up has always struck a chord with me, and to this day that memory makes me smile.

David, you were a wonderful human being and friend, and I'll miss you dearly.

My deepest condolences to his family.

“ We first met David when he was 10 years old. Such a nice polite young man . Saw him grow up to the person he was. Beautiful man, loving husband and devoted father. Family always came first. A beautiful soul.
